

Lower work accident insurance contributions vs hazardous conditions

ayming

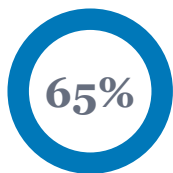

FURTHER TOGETHER

Analysis of hazardous conditions

The presence of harmful factors in the work environment determines the rate of the accident insurance contribution. Those most prevalent include noise, chemicals, dust, vibrations and microclimate.

A lower number of employees working in hazardous conditions this year will mean lower accident insurance contributions in the future. Regular and correct assessment of the work environment translates into lower costs.

65% of the savings made by companies on accident insurance contributions are related to hazardous conditions.

Examples of savings – a case study

Province:
Wielkopolska

Employment:
3,000 people

Industry: processing

Source of savings: successive verification of working conditions and implementation of solutions aimed at their improvement.

Initial rate of the accident insurance
contribution:

Verified rate of the accident insurance
contribution:

Savings
obtained:

current year

next 3 years

in 4 years

Main challenge: difficulties in correctly assessing the actual hazards present in the work environment

Benefits of working with Ayming in the field of hazardous conditions

360° analysis

- Complete audit of historical data.
- Performance of measurements and an assessment of the company's work environment.
- Implementation of solutions to improve working conditions.
- Supervision over the work environment and minimisation of accident insurance contributions in the future.

Experience

- Ayming was the first company in Poland to implement solutions aimed at reducing accident contributions.
- 1,600 completed projects in the field of the accident insurance contribution.
- 125 million PLN of confirmed savings.

Benefits for the client

- Minimised accident contributions in the current year and in the future.
- Reduced risk parameters and improved working conditions.
- Access to up-to-date solutions which enable a decrease in accident contributions.

Our clients:

“Our cooperation with Ayming Polska led to a lower accident insurance contribution which resulted in reduced costs incurred by our company”.

Atlas Sp. z o.o.

“Ayming Polska enabled Coca-Cola HBC Polska to successfully complete the implementation process in aspects linked to accident insurance contributions. The services provided by Ayming Polska helped Coca-Cola HBC Polska achieve its project objectives.”

Coca-Cola HBC Polska Sp. z o.o.

“Ayming Polska provided our company with a service focused on reviewing the costs of accident insurance contributions and performing associated implementation activities, which gave us genuine, considerable savings”.

Bridgestone Stargard Sp. z o.o.

Ayming Polska Sp. z o.o.

Moniuszki 1A
00-014 Warsaw, Poland

Phone: +48 22 330 60 00
kontakt@ayming.com

ayming.pl